

No wires, that changes everything,
except what's important for you

What's important...

The choice

All types of interior window coverings can be powered with a Somfy WireFree™ motor without damaging their appearance. The motor is installed out of sight in the metal box at the top of the blind or inside the tube.

What else is important...

The system is quick to install, with no electrician costs and no damage to your décor

A WireFree™ powered window covering can be installed in 10 minutes, just like a manual shade or blind. No electrical connections, or wire connecting it to the remote control are needed.

The innovation that changes everything!

Low-consumption motors

A Somfy-exclusive patent means that a WireFree™ motor consumes only the amount of energy that is strictly necessary, and only when it is being used. So the batteries will last for more than 2 years*.

100% wireless for 100% satisfaction

With Somfy's independent WireFree™ motors, you can adjust your interior window coverings at the simple press of a button on your remote control.

No need for electrical connections and no cords to pull.

Now, you can get the most out of your window covering investment.

Things will be more simple and convenient.

> Your blinds will last longer

As they are operated gently and smoothly. The cords wind up neatly so that your blinds won't get stuck or come down uneven.

> Feel good every day

Without getting up from your seat, just a click and you can filter the daylight, protect your privacy, or let daylight in. Just press a button on your remote control: the shade goes up or down, and the horizontal blind slats rotate to the position you want.

> More functions to get even more out of your window coverings

You can program the movements of your shades or blinds depending on the time of day, or let the sensors make them go up and down as the sun moves round or the temperature in the room changes.
